the present century the Catholic Church held to the notion that the earth does not move, and shows that certain Protestant sects displayed much less wisdom by clinging to the antiquated delusion even longer. "Rapid Transit" is the subject of the sixth of Carroll D. Wright's Lessons from the Census. It contains much information concerning operating expenses, relative economy of motive powers, growth of mileage, etc. An interesting study of "Involuntary Movements," by Professor Joseph Jastrow, will appear. Experiments have been made in the psychological laboratory of the University of Wisconsin which show the reality and nature of the motions on which "muscle-reading" depends. Professor Jastrow's article is illustrated with tracings of such movements, and with a figure of the simple apparatus employed in taking them. "The Great Earthquake of Port Royal," which took place in 1692, will be described by Colonel A. B. Ellis. This account corrects certain erroneous notions of the occurrence that have long prevailed, and shows that the arrangement of the present town invites a repetition of the catastrophe. The article is illustrated. The last of the articles on musical instruments in the series on the Development of American Industries will be published in the April number. It is by Daniel Spillane, and traces the evolution of the manufacture of "Orchestral Musical Instruments" in America. The article is fully illustrated.

the Equator," which was announced last fall, but which they were unable to issue at that time. They have in press a new "Handbook of Great Archaeology" (profusely illustrated), dealing with vases, bronzes, gems, painting, sculpture, and architecture, by A. S. Murray, keeper of Greek and Roman antiquities, British Museum. After a long delay Baedeker's "Upper Egypt" has at last been published in English, and is imported by Charles Scribner's Sons. It will be welcomed by all interested in that subject, whether travellers or students.

- Houghton, Mifflin, & Co. have published a book by the theosophist, Mr. A P. Sinnett, on "The Rationale of Mesmerism." Mr. Sinnett is the author of "Esoteric Buddhism" and other works on theosophy, and in the present volume he professes to account for the phenomena of mesmerism, or hypnotism, on the principles of so-called occultism. He begins by rebuking the physicians and other scientific men for their refusal until very lately to study the phenomena in question or even to admit their existence; and it must be admitted that the rebuke is well deserved. The theories he advances to explain the phenomena are, however, of a very unscientific character. He asserts the existence of a magnetic fluid and also of a third principle in the nature of man, intermediate between the soul and the body, which he calls the "astral" principle; and it is by these imaginary agencies that he attempts to account for mesmerism, He tells us that there is an astral body, which "is quite visible when detached from the physical body to those who are gifted in any high degree with clairvoyant vision," and that "the astral plane affords direct communion between the consciousness of the operator and the subject when the two are brought into true magnetic harmony." This explanation, as our readers will see, is no explanation at all; yet it is not a whit worse than the theory of "multiple personality" which is advocated by many French and German hypnotists. In our opinion the phenomena in question are far too intricate to be accounted for by any principles now known to us, and we believe that much more investigation and far deeper thinking are necessary before the true explanation can be given.

- The Cassell Publishing Company announce the "Record of Scientific Progress for the year 1891," exhibiting the most important discoveries and improvements in all the branches of engineering, architecture and building, mining and metallurgy, the mechanic arts, industrial technology, and the useful arts, photography, chemistry, medicine and surgery, printing, the generation, measurement, transmission, and application of electricity, the telegraph and telephone, meteorology and aeronauty, astronomy, etc. The editor is Professor Robert Grimshaw.

- M. Camille Flammarion, the author of "Uranie," is too well known to need more than the announcement of a new volume from his pen to attract readers. His new story, "Lumen." announced by the Cassell Publishing Company, is very much in the manner of "Uranie," a scientific romance. "It is a delightful thing in these prosaic days," says a well-known critic, "to get away from the novels of realism and strike out into something of an entirely different order that lifts one into the clouds - the pun is unintentional — and takes him away from the earth. It is just this that M. Flammarion does and it is a rest to the weary brain to read his graceful stories." Mrs. Serrano, who translated "Uranie," has translated this volume.

THE NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Stands to-day, as it has done for so many years, in advance of all competitors.

Its settlements of Tontine contracts taken ten years ago show 1891 surplus results of from 45 to 70 per cent. in excess of other companies.

Its annual dividend-paying policies are returning two, three, and in some cases nearly four times the dividends under similiar policies of our chief competitors.

The Northwestern's investment contracts, affording the highest guaranteed incomes on the cost, are far more profitable than any similar contract elsewhere obtainable. The Northwestern also has by far the largest percentage of real surplus excluding Tontine accumulations, over valuation of real estate, market value of securities over cost, etc.

The charter of the Northwestern prevents investments in fluctuating securities, and absolutely provides against the misuse of proxies.

If you care for an exact statement at your age, giving results and cost of policies, you can obtain same by requesting proposition by mail for a policy combining cheap life insurance and investment feature or income for old age. as an added value-naming yearly cost not to be exceeded on given age at nearest birthday.
