

Public Library, Astor, Lenox and Tilden Foundations, eleven of said shares. I give and bequeath unto The Groton School, now located at Groton, Mass., two of said shares. I give and bequeath unto the president and fellows of Yale University, five of said shares. I give and bequeath unto the Nassau Hospital Association, one of said shares. It would be agreeable to me that each of the above legacies should constitute a part of the endowment fund of the institution receiving the same, the income to be used for its corporate purposes; but this expression of my wish shall not be taken to prevent the institution from applying any part of the capital of its legacy to the acquisition of additional real estate, buildings, equipment, facilities, furnishings or other property which its governing board may deem desirable for the development and extension of its public service.

(b) I give and bequeath unto the Society of the New York Hospital, to be applied to the development and maintenance of neurological or psychiatric work in New York City, eleven of said shares.

(c) I give and bequeath unto my son-in-law, Charles S. Payson, five of said shares.

(d) I give and bequeath the remaining forty-six of said shares unto Lewis Cass Ledyard, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Jr., and Edward W. Sheldon, in trust, to take possession, control and management thereof, and to invest and reinvest the same, and to collect and receive the rents, issues and profits thereof, and, from time to time, to use and apply the principal and income of said trust fund for the furtherance and development of such charitable, benevolent, hospital, infirmary, public educational, scientific, literary, library or research purposes as said trustees shall, in their absolute discretion, determine to be in the public interest. Such application may be made either by donations to institutions of the character above mentioned, or through the formation of corporations or associations for the development of such purposes, and contributions to such corporations or associations. It would be agreeable to me that this fund should be used for the aid or development of such of the above enumerated purposes as I have been interested in during my lifetime, but this expression of my wish shall not be taken to control or limit the absolute discretion above conferred upon the trustees of said fund.

EXPEDITIONS OF THE AMERICAN MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the American Museum of Natural History, on June 9, arrangements were completed for a number of different expeditions. The expeditions as outlined were:

The Taylor-Sudan expedition, which will collect birds and mammals along the White and Blue Nile under Harold E. Anthony. Rollo H. Beck will direct the Whitney South Sea expedition to collect birds of the Pacific.

The Ruwenzori-Kivu expedition, headed by Dr. James Chapin, DeWitt L. Sage and F. P. Matthews, will collect birds of subtropical Africa, and the sixth Bernheimer expedition will search for anthropological material in New Mexico and Arizona. George H. Tate and T. Donald Carter will start on a trip to Roraima, a mountain in Venezuela, where they will collect birds and mammals. Dr. Chester A. Reeds will conduct the Nevada meteorite expedition.

North Africa will be visited by George C. Valiant, assistant curator in Mexican archeology. A field expedition from the University of Chicago for an archeological reconnaissance of Asia Minor has been joined by Erich F. Schmidt, of the department of anthropology. The Putnam Baffin Bay expedition will visit Baffinland and other northern points under George Palmer Putnam.

The Trail-Side Museum and Nature Trails at Bear Mountain are under the direction of the resident naturalist, William R. Carr, and the insect station at Tuxedo is being continued by Dr. E. E. Lutz. Several expeditions are being arranged by Childs Frick for the department of vertebrate paleontology, among them being one to Nebraska under Albert Thomson and another to Colorado, Wyoming and Montana under Barnum Brown.

A resolution transferring the Aztec ruins at Aztec, N. M., to the United States government to form a part of the Aztec Ruin National Monument previously presented by Archer M. Huntington was adopted.

THE INSTITUTE OF CHEMISTRY AT THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

TWENTY-TWO conferences on "Chemistry in World Affairs" will be held at the new Institute of Chemistry of the American Chemical Society, which begins its sessions July 4 at the Pennsylvania State College. The conferences, at which scientific men from both America and Europe will speak, will be similar to those at the Institute of Politics, Williamstown, Mass. Following each conference there will be a discussion by men prominent in the chemical industry and in education.

The chairman of the opening conference on July 5 will be Dr. Harrison E. Howe, of Washington, D. C., editor of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry. The principal speaker will be Dr. John E. Teeple, of New York, treasurer of the American Chemical Society. Dr. Teeple will speak on "Economic Factors in the Chemical Industry." His address will be discussed by Dr. Charles H. Herty, of New York, adviser to the Chemical Foundation, and William Haynes, of New York, editor of Drug and Chemical Markets.

"Economic Factors in Industrial Research" will be the topic of the July 6 conference, and "The Use of X-rays in Research on Structure of Non-Metallic Materials" that of July 7, when the speakers are Dr. Ancel St. John and Dr. W. P. Davey.
