

THE ABILITY TO DESIGN AND PRODUCE

Entirely different in design from the conventional microscope, the DDE Microscope is offered as evidence that Bausch & Lomb is equipped to manufacture optical instruments of any required nature for any specific purpose.

All of the resources which go into the construction of special instruments such as the DDE are utilized in the design and manufacture of every B & L Product. That is the reason for the excellent performance and long life of trouble free service which B & L Instruments are giving wherever they are used.
