Scientists recommend "THIS NEW BOOK" because:

... while it is a book for general readers, it contains a great deal of information from original research on fossils not published in technical form.

... it is a book which scientists can recommend to both adults and youngsters as a really readable, authoritative book on fossils. (School and public libraries are enthusiastic about it.)

LIFE LONG AGO

A STORY OF FOSSILS

By CARROL LANE FENTON

author of "Along the Hill"

"Combines the simple skill of the writer with the precise observation of the scientist. It is the story of fossils, plant and animal, but chiefly animal... a reading of the autobiography of the world in terms of ancient bones and casts and markings, a story full of imaginative and romantic excitement. Mr. Fenton's method and literary touch make the prehistoric world a steaming fog and swamp, of great hissing monsters and fern-like trees come startlingly to life."
—Boston Traveler.

The 150 illustrations are especially drawn by the author to give a full panoramic view of the world of fossils. A series of 7 full-color pages depicts the dinosaur and other prehistoric animals in their natural habitats. $3.50.
