International Genetics Congress

The tenth International Congress of Genetics will be held at McGill University in Montreal 20–27 August. This is the second International Congress of Genetics to be held in North America (the first took place in Ithaca, N.Y., in 1932), and the first in Canada. An invitation to hold this congress at McGill was extended at the last congress (in Bellagio, Italy) by McGill and sponsored by the Genetics Society of America.

The invitation was unanimously supported by the Permanent International Committee for Genetics Congresses and approved at a plenary session of the congress. Since then the following organizations have enlisted as cosponsors: Genetics Society of Canada, Agricultural Institute of Canada, American Cancer Society, American Eugenics Society, American Genetic Association, American Society of Agronomy, American Society for Animal Production, American Society for Horticultural Science, American Society of Human Genetics, American Society of Naturalists, Society for the Study of Evolution.

Sewall Wright of the University of Wisconsin is president of the congress, and the vice presidents are: L. S. Penrose, University College, London, England; C. Pavan, University of São Paulo, São Paulo, Brazil; Y. Sinoto, International Christian University, Tokyo, Japan; A. Müntzing, Mendelska Sällskapet Genetiska Institutionen, Lund, Sweden; A. Sturtevant, California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Calif.; and W. P. Thompson, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. J. W. Boyes, Department of Genetics, Mc-Gill University, Montreal, P.Q., is the general secretary.

The scientific program will consist of symposia, invited papers, contributed papers and demonstrations, exhibits, panel discussions, and special meetings. A very extensive exhibit, illustrating the numerous ways in which the science of genetics has contributed to human progress and welfare, is being prepared. There will be about 100 booths, including many exhibits brought from Japan especially for the congress, a number being prepared by the Department of Agriculture of the Government of Canada, some by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and some by the Swedish Seed Association.

The Japanese exhibits will illustrate genetic and cytological work on morning glory, wheat, rice, radish, silkworm, goldfish, and fowl. Exhibits on plant genetics will include examples from studies of coffee, cotton, sorghum, watermelons, rubber, and hybrid corn; crop improvement through crosses with wild relatives will also be shown.

Studies on animal genetics will be illustrated by exhibits of the King Ranch Santa Gertrudis cattle; dwarf cattle, fur animals, sheep and poultry; and possibly of dogs, cats, and swine. There will be a section concerning the use of genetics in relation to medicine, with displays on the use of inbred strains of animals, living chromosome maps of the mouse, immunogenetics of tissue transplants, human cancer genetics, cancer in animals, twin studies, and radiation biology.

The Canadian exhibit will demonstrate aspects of the application of genetic principles to studies of wheat, oats, Lacombe hog, poultry, legume breeding, flower color, and tomatoes.

There will be three public lectures for the general public. The Huskins Memorial Lecture of the Genetics Society of Canada will be presented in English by Arne Müntzing, chairman of the Mendelska Sällskapet Genetiska Institutionen of Lund, Sweden, in the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium at 8 P.M. on 19 August; a public lecture in French will be presented by Dr. Jacob in the auditorium of the University of Montreal at 8 P.M. on 21 August; and a lecture in English will be given by Theodosius Dobzhansky of Columbia University at the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium at 8 P.M. on 25 August.

Invitations have been extended to some 60 countries through the Department of External Affairs in Ottawa. The general secretary has extended personal invitations to more than 230 individuals and about 300 institutions in many different countries. The responses to these invitations have been numerous and encouraging. The United States Finance Committee has raised more than $50,-000 to be used in helping overseas geneticists to come to the congress. Official delegates of 17 universities (or other organizations) have already been appointed and many more are expected. Countries which will be represented by these delegates include Italy, England, Switzerland, Japan, Netherlands, Poland, Greece, West Germany, the Union of South Africa, and Australia. For further information write to Prof. J. W. Boyes, General Secretary, X International Congress of Genetics, McGill University, Montreal 2, P.Q., Canada.

Pacific Division of the AAAS

The 39th annual meeting of the Pacific Division of the AAAS will be held on the campus of Utah State University, Logan, 16-20 June. Registration will open at 1 P.M. on 15 June and at 8 A.M. on subsequent days.

The divisional symposium, on the subject "Cenozoic History of the Western United States—Geomorphic, Climatic, Ecological," will be held on the evening of 16 June. On 18 June the Council of the Pacific Division will meet at 4 P.M. The presidential address of Ian Campbell, president of the Pacific Division, will be given that evening.

Nineteen societies affiliated with the Pacific Division will participate in the Logan meeting, with symposia and sessions for the reading of papers. Local arrangements are in charge of a general committee, which is under the chairmanship of J. Stewart Williams, dean of the Graduate School of Utah State University.

International Dairy Congress

United States scientific and technical workers in the field of dairy science have been invited to participate in the 15th International Dairy Congress, to be held in London, England, 29 June through 3 July 1959. The congress is under the direction of the International Dairy Federation. Arrangements for United States participation are being handled by R. E. Hodgson of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. A committee of USDA specialists is being named to assist him.

Those who wish to propose papers for inclusion in the program and proceedings of the congress are requested to advise Hodgson not later than 25 May 1958. Correspondence indicating title and subject matter should be addressed to Dr. R. E. Hodgson, Animal Husbandry Research Division, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Beltsville, Md. Papers are limited to 2000 words. All manuscripts are to be submitted by 15 August 1958.

The United Kingdom Dairy Association, with the approval of the British Government, is organizing the 1959 congress. Organizing secretary is A. W. Marsden, XV International Dairy Congress, 86 Brook St., London, W.1, England.

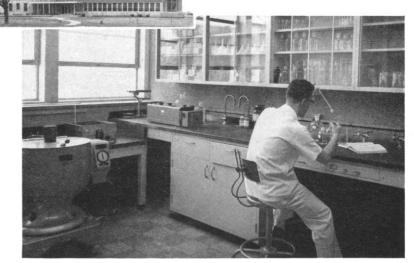

Seventh National Clay Conference

The seventh National Clay Conference will be held 20–23 October at the U.S. National Museum, Washington, D.C. Sessions will be open to all who have a common interest in clays and clay technology. The meeting is sponsored by the Clay Minerals Committee of the National Research Council and is under the chairmanship of Dr. H. F. McMurdie of the National Bureau of Standards.

A principal theme for the conference will be "Geology of Clay Deposits." However, papers will also be presented on other phases of the broad subject of "Clays and Clay Minerals." Complete details of the program will be announced 16 MAY 1958

Will Organization Renders Valuable Advisory and Supply Services

Soon to be dedicated, the new research laboratory of the New York State Masonic Foundation for Medical Research and Human Welfare is today in the final stages of being equipped by Will's Rochester Supply and Service Center.

Will Corporation and its subsidiaries are proud to have been chosen major supplier of laboratory apparatus for these modern and important new research facilities. Created for intensive investigation in the important field of geriatrics, the new Masonic Research Laboratory is now among the best equipped in its field anywhere.

ATTITUTE IN

Dr. Norman S. Olsen, Assistant Research Director, charged with setting up and staffing the new center, says, "During the past few busy months, the service we've been getting from the entire Will organization has been a wonderful help." Typical Apparatus at the Masonic Laboratory. Development and Growth

The Society for the Study of Development and Growth will hold the 17th Growth Symposium, 9-11 June, at Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass. The theme of the symposium, which is supported in large part by a grant from the National Science Foundation, is "Differentiation and Growth in Response to a Changing Chemical Environment." The principal speakers are: C. E. Wilde, Jr.; A. Nason and F. Vasington; H. Hoffmann-Berling, Heidelberg, Germany; A. Csapo; C. Lutwak-Mann, Cambridge, England; L. C. Luckwill, Bristol, England; F. W. Loomis; F. Moog; J. G. Torrey; and H. Schneiderman. Leading the discussions will be: H. E. Lehman, N. O. Kaplan, F. Carlson, Andrew G. Szent-Györgyi, D. W. Bishop, J. P. Nitsch, J. P. Trinkaus, S. C. Shen, R. O. Erickson, and D. Bodenstein.

Housing and meals will be provided in the college dormitories; total cost per person, including room, meals, and the banquet and smoker, will not exceed $30. Anyone interested in the program may attend whether he is a society member or not. Nonmembers who wish to reserve dormitory accommodations should write immediately to Dr. Kathryn Stein, Department of Zoology, Mount Holyoke College.
