

Science, Technology, and Economic Growth

Donald Hornig will be honorary chairman. Bruce S. Old and Michael Michaelis will be chairman and vice chairman, respectively.

29 January–2 February. (Speakers to be announced.) Topics selected for discussion include: the responsibilities and role of government to facilitate industrial initiative in the "public sector" areas such as transportation and housing; the problem of maintaining at an appropriate level the basic research programs of the universities; and the problem of providing effective technological assistance to bring about the economic growth of underdeveloped areas or countries.
